COMMITTEE ON TEACHING OF INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW

RICHARD M. BUXBAUM, Chairman

This Committee which began in 1961 under the Chairmanship of Professor Rudolf B. Schlesinger began a long-range effort of collecting reports on the teaching of international law throughout the world. Reports have been published in the Proceedings of our Section on the situation in the U.S.S.R., France, and the Federal Republic of Germany. A fourth report dealing with Italy, has been prepared by Professor Rodolfo DeNova, the Dean of the Law School of the University of Pavia. Several other reports have been arranged for and should be available for the next issue of the Proceedings. These will primarily concern the situation in various Latin American countries, Yugoslavia, and some of the Near East nations.
