SYLLABUS: ASIAN AMERICANS AND THE LAW

Robert S. Chang

READING CLUSTER 1: IDENTITY: THEORY AND NARRATIVES

A. Theory

1. This is a synthesis of my syllabi from my teaching the course the last five years. I taught it as a two or three unit seminar. I have mostly relied upon course reading packets that I compiled, working from syllabi and course materials shared by Keith Aoki, Neil Gotanda, Bill Hing, Jerry Kang, and Leti Volpp. In Spring 2002, I used as a core text: ERIC K. YAMAMOTO ET AL., RACE, RIGHTS AND REPARATION: LAW AND THE JAPANESE AMERICAN INTERNMENT (2001). One year, I used as a core text my book, ROBERT S. CHANG, DISORIENTED: ASIAN AMERICANS, LAW, AND THE NATION-STATE (1999). In different years, I have emphasized different themes as embodied in the clusters. As I noted above, this is a synthesis and the materials presented here are more than what can be covered adequately in a typical two or three unit seminar or course. For those who might use it as a guide, I suggest choosing which clusters to cover along with selective addition and elimination of some readings. I welcome feedback with regard to readings or themes I have missed or overlooked.
