Editor's Note: Peñalver and Gordley

On April 23, 2004, the Ecology Law Quarterly held its first “ELQ Forum.” A generous grant from the Goldman Foundation allowed us to invite two of our authors to the Berkeley campus. Professors Penalver and Hsu joined us for a symposium, where they presented the research and papers that are published in this issue. Additionally, we invited local practitioners and academics to comment on their work. We were lucky to be joined by Professors Jesse Choper, Norman Spaulding, James Gordley and local practitioner and scholar David Roe. The following commentary from Boalt Hall Professor James Gordley is a product of this event. We are pleased to have the opportunity to include Professor Gordley’s response to Professor Penalver’s research and hope that this will be the first of many cross disciplinary discussions included in the pages of ELQ.
